St. Luke’s Cornwall Hospital offers additional services typically conducted on an outpatient basis, including cardiac catheterization, infusion therapy, endoscopy, colonoscopy and eye surgery. We are affiliated with Eastern Orange Ambulatory Surgery Center, a leading-edge same-day surgery center located on our Cornwall campus. For more information on outpatient services, visit www.stlukescornwallhospital.org.

Communication and Swallowing Disorders
If you or a family member has a speech-language or swallowing impairment, evaluation and treatment by our certified speech pathologists can help. A customized treatment plan will be developed to improve the patient’s abilities and quality of life. Services are available at SLCH’s Newburgh and Cornwall campuses. Call (845) 568-2180 for more information.

Outpatient Laboratories
SLCH operates four convenient outpatient laboratories that offer a range of clinical tests and ample parking. Quality is our priority, and test results are available to your physician quickly. The laboratory is staffed by professionals licensed by NYSED and the New York State Department of Health, and accredited by the College of American Pathology. Most tests are conducted on a walk-in basis; appointments are required for glucose, lactose and D-xylose tolerance tests. Call (845) 458-4000 for information.

Cardiac Rehabilitation

Our Center for Cardiac Rehabilitation is dedicated to improving the quality of life and overall survival of those with coronary diseases. A recent study of heart attack survivors found that participation in a cardiac rehab program reduced the likelihood of having a second heart attack within the next year by 17%; two years after the heart attack, total mortality decreased by nearly 50%.

You can benefit from SLCH’s Cardiac Rehab program if you have heart disease or have had a heart attack, coronary bypass surgery, angioplasty, valve repair or replacement, PTCA (balloon) procedure, or heart or lung transplant. The Center is located at 575 Hudson Valley Avenue (near Stewart Airport), New Windsor. Call (845) 784-3764 for more information.

Physical and Occupational Therapy
